

RESUME

Dennis Yang

This 69-year-old dynamo is a father of three and grandfather of six. Borne in China he studied law however with some healthy rebellious attitude and an unstoppable zest for life and adventure he followed his passion, went to live in Italy for three years where he studied Cello under a famous local master.

After travelling the world for some time he settled in Taiwan where he became a legend in the shoe manufacturing business. Over the next twenty-five years he built up and run the largest and most successful shoe manufacturing businesses in the country.

Eventually he left Taiwan, settled in the USA with his family and established a large factory complex in Southern China close to Hong Kong where he has been successfully manufacturing many different product, especially high end kitchen fittings and copper clad windows which he pioneered in a new and innovative style.

Since 2007 he has been involved with Dr Bisaz and Dr Downey in the development and production of equilibras[™] the amazing world first orthotic flat sole.